

Wayland Pen Pals: Across Town and Across the Generations

A Joint Program of
Wayland Council on Aging &
Wayland Children's and Parents Association

Wayland Pen Pals matches older Wayland residents with families with young children to exchange letters during the spring of 2017. Topics and ideas are provided to both parties to help with letter writing, as well as a recommended schedule for letter exchanges. At the end of the letter-writing period, participants meet each other at a Pen Pal Party in June 2017

I understand that my address or PO box will be shared with the Council on Aging volunteer coordinator and with a senior with whom my family is matched. I understand that as a parent or adult caregiver, I will be participating in this project with my child and keeping abreast of all communication that occurs. This pen pal program is a letter writing program only, with one in-person event in June 2017. If my family seeks to continue a relationship with our senior, it is at our own discretion.
