DRUG STORY THEATRE (PLAY AND PRESENTATION)

TUESDAY, 5/21, 7PM-8:30PM

LINCOLN-SUDBURY HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

DR. SHRAND

Drug Story Theater (DST) takes teens in the early stages of recovery from drugs and alcohol, teaches them improvisational theater, and helps them craft their own unique stories into a play about their seduction of, addiction to and recovery from drugs and alcohol. Incorporating brain science with slides in between scenes, DST teaches how young people get addicted and how the adolescent brain is neurologically wired for addiction.

PARENTS AND 8TH GRADERS AND UP | Followed by a Q&A between parents and Dr. Shrand. The audience is also encouraged to ask questions directly to teen actors who are actively in recovery.
